■ America's Christian History & Biblical Government

Principles for Transformation of Law and Politics • July 6-7, 2012

America was founded as a Christian nation by people who were providentially prepared to plant a "city upon a hill" that would be for the glory of God and the advancement of the Christian faith. Without God and the Bible, there would be no America as we know it today. This is not the view of American History taught in schools today, but this is the view of the founders of America, and is what was taught in schools, churches, and books for generations.

Through the presentations and lectures you will learn some of the vast evidence of the Christian foundation of the nation, hear the true story of America's liberty, see why we as a nation have forgotten this story, and learn what is needed today to bring Godly transformation and re-establish America upon her founding principles. Fundamentals of a Biblical worldview and Godly government will be presented throughout.

Topics America's Providential History (multiple sessions) • Biblical Power and Form of Government • Advance of Liberty in Modern Times and more (see providencefoundation.com for complete list of topics)

■ Christian History Tour of the Homes of Jefferson and Madison (Monticello and Montpelier) • July 5, 2012

Situated on a mountaintop outside Charlottesville, Virginia, Monticello, a 5,000-acre plantation, was the home of Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, third president of the United States, and founder of the University of Virginia. Nestled in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains in Orange, Virginia, Montpelier was the lifelong home of James Madison. Madison was raised at Montpelier, lived here after his marriage to Dolley, returned here after his presidency, and died here in his study surrounded by the books and papers that marked so much of his life's work. It was at Montpelier where Madison researched past democracies and conceived of the system of government that became our republic.
